Course Outline

This course will present a comprehensive state-of-the-art update on different aspects of musculoskeletal imaging. Pertinent anatomy and pathology will be reviewed for each joint. Evaluation of cartilage lesions, including the newest available sequences will be presented; some lectures will include a discussion of optimized protocols with 1.5T and 3T MR units.

A comprehensive discussion of bone and soft-tissue tumors will be given, including high yield differential diagnoses. Special attention will be directed to bone-marrow and muscle pathology.”

Course Objectives

At the completion of this course, the attendee should be able to:

1. Use optimized protocols for imaging of the musculoskeletal system, including protocols used to suppress metal hardware in patients with joint replacements.
2. Understand the MRI anatomy of the shoulder (with SAC), digits, hip, knee and ankle.
3. Be familiar with abnormalities of bone marrow, osteochondral disease, and traumatic injuries of muscle and bone.
4. Recognize typical features of cervical spine trauma.
5. Identify abnormalities and imaging pitfalls of the joints, muscles, bone marrow and cartilage on MRI and their clinical significance.
6. Recognize common bone tumors with a pertinent differential diagnosis (with SAC)

Self-Assessment (SAM) Credits

This course will offer 12.75 Self-Assessment credits in Musculoskeletal (pending approval and subject to change).

As of January 1, 2013, updated MOC Part 2 requirements: 75 CME credits every three years, at least 25 of which must be self-assessment activities (SA-CME, which includes SAMs). For more information: www.theabr.org/moc-dr-comp2

Accreditation

The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 12.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits.[™]

The total credits are inclusive of 12.75 in MR.

Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in each activity.

This educational activity meets the requirement under California State Assembly Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.

Abdominal & Pelvic Imaging

January 31 - February 2, 2018

Omni Rancho las Palmas Resort - Palm Springs, CA

UCSF Department of Radiology and Biomedical Imaging
<https://radiology.ucsf.edu/cme>

Course Outline

The goal of this course is to enhance the interpretation of body imaging studies and to improve clinical practice. This will be achieved by providing an updated review of state-of-the-art imaging methods and evidence-based practice in CT, MRI and Ultrasound as they pertain to the gastrointestinal and genitourinary systems. The ACR guidelines on managing incidental findings in the kidney, adrenal, liver, and pancreas on CT scans will be discussed (as appropriate).

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, the attendee should be able to:

1. Discuss management of incidental findings;
2. Identify indications for the use of different imaging modalities (CT/MRI/US) for various abdomino-pelvic organs and conditions;
3. Apply practical approaches to diagnosing both benign and malignant diseases of the abdomen and pelvis;
4. Anticipate potential pitfalls in abdomino-pelvic imaging and interpretation;
5. Participants of the workshop are expected to learn a) the basic requirements for adequate prostate MR imaging acquisition and b) the use of PI-RADS for imaging interpretation.

Self-Assessment (SAM) Credits

This course will offer 12 Self-Assessment credits: 3.5 in GI, 3.5 in GU, 3.5 in Ultrasound, and 1.5 in Interpretive Skills (pending approval and subject to change).

As of January 1, 2013, updated MOC Part 2 requirements: 75 CME credits every three years, at least 25 of which must be self-assessment activities (SA-CME, which includes SAMs). For more information: www.theabr.org/moc-dr-comp2

The Greater Palm Springs Area

Palm Springs is located about 130 miles or a two-hour drive east of Los Angeles. The area includes the neighboring towns of Cathedral City, Rancho Mirage, Palm Desert and Indian Wells, as you travel southeast along Route 10 or Highway 111. The area has an average 350 days of sunshine a year, and winter temperatures are usually in the 70's.

The mix of southwestern culture and California history combine to make the Palm Springs area an eclectic mix of food, culture, outdoor activities, and an ideal opportunity for the art aficionado or furniture collector to enjoy the search for that unique find.

Palm Springs Highlights
