Bermuda

<http://bermudatourism.com>

Bermuda is a collection of warm-weather islands with stunning architecture, extraordinary natural beauty and vibrant colors. Lush greenery, pink sandy beaches, and spectacular azure waters lend themselves to relaxation and can afford memorable adventures, from golfing 365 days a year or snorkeling along majestic coral reefs to international shopping along Front Street.

Shipwrecks – African drum beats – Knee socks. Culturally, Bermuda is a unique blend of colonial history and African heritage giving birth to colorful local legends and rich traditions such as Bermuda Gombey, magnificent dancing and drumming troupes. As Britain's oldest colony, its influence continues to dominate Bermudian governmental, educational and legal institutions. You may spot a judge walking through Hamilton in a powdered wig with Bermuda shorts under his robe, see a bobby directing traffic or overhear a passionate conversation about a local cricket match.

Activities on Bermuda

Bermuda takes up a mere 21 square miles of land, but it holds enough spectacular attractions to keep you busy for days. Whether you explore the famous sites or wander off the beaten path, you're sure to have the time of your life. Here is a partial list of activities and attractions you can enjoy:

- Arboretum
- Aquarium and Zoo
- Bermuda Institute of Ocean Sciences
- Bermuda National Art Gallery and City Hall
- Bermuda Underwater Exploration Institute (BUEI)
- Botanical gardens
- Crystal caves
- Cricket matches
- Dolphin encounters
- Fishing
- Historic houses
- Horseback riding
- Gibbs Hill Lighthouse
- Golf
- Masterwork Museum of Bermuda Art
- Perfumery
- Yacht charters
- Water sports – snorkeling, kayaking and scuba diving

Pink Sand Beaches Bermuda offers an array of exquisite beaches of pink sand and turquoise water. South Shore features the most beaches and the most photographed, with Warwick Park, Warwick Long Bay, and Horseshoe Bay comprising an one and half mile-long costal park. There are dozens of coves and bays along the way offering protected swimming and snorkeling, and trails to explore adding to the ambiance. Crafted by nature and chiseled, through the centuries, by the ebb and flow of the Atlantic Ocean, its breathtaking beaches are Bermuda's most enduring attraction.

“Must See” Attractions

Bermuda combines the best of all worlds -- ease of access, island charm, rich culture and tradition, a stable economy, a center for international business, state-of-the art communications, and a modern, efficient infrastructure -- making Bermuda a destination you can choose with confidence.

The Royal Naval Dockyard

Built by Royal decree to defend British superiority on the seas, the Royal Naval Dockyard, located in the West End, is a magnificent preservation of British history dating back to 1809. Today, the Royal Naval Dockyard has been converted into a lovely village of shops, art galleries and eateries, but is still steeped in Bermudian history. Each building houses something to be enjoyed including the quaint Clocktower Mall full of boutiques and restaurants and the Bermuda Craft Market. Also located here are two major historical attractions — Bermuda Maritime Museum and Commissioner's House. In the Bermuda Maritime Museum, words, images and original artifacts recovered from shipwrecks found in local waters bring the chilling and unforgettable story of transatlantic slavery to life. Towering over the Keep is the Commissioner's House, which houses a variety of exhibitions exploring Bermuda's cultural connections, local slavery, military history and features rare collections of paintings, maps and coins.

St. George's, a World Heritage Site

St. George's and related fortifications were designated a World Heritage Site by UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, on November 30, 2000 for their "outstanding universal value." St. George's is the oldest continuously inhabited town of English origin in the New World, and has retained its charm and character into the 21st Century. Four hundred years of history can be found in the buildings architecture and military fortifications.

Forts of Bermuda

There are 90 forts in Bermuda that comprise 400 years of history and all the stories that go with them. Built by the British to defend Bermuda and its harbors, many of these structures are in good condition, as they have been restored as historic sites maintained by the government, and others are now part of the World Heritage Site recognized by UNESCO and preserved for future generations to come.

Travel Information and Tips

Passports and Visas: US and Canadian citizens visiting Bermuda must present a valid passport upon entry and departure. There are no visa requirements for U.S. or Canadian citizens. In addition, all visitors must have a return or onward airline ticket.

For more information
US Travel – <http://travel.state.gov>
Canadian Travel – <http://travel.gc.ca>

As Bermuda is a British Overseas Territory, refer to the British Embassy website for other travel questions.
<http://ukinusa.fco.gov.uk/en>

Time Zone: Bermuda is on Atlantic Time, and is one hour ahead of Eastern Time year-round.

Currency: Legal tender in Bermuda is the Bermuda dollar, which trades at the same rate as the US dollar and carries the same symbol ($). Bermuda and US currencies are accepted interchangeably, but change is almost always given in Bermudian coins. ATM machines dispense only Bermuda dollars and buses accept coins only.

Safety and Health: No inoculations or unusual health precautions are required to visit Bermuda. The small size and affluent population leads to safe streets and a very low rate of crime.

In addition to the usual precautions against sunburn and ocean swimming, swimmers need to steer clear of the Portuguese man-of-war that occasionally shows up on the beaches and in the waters between March and July. This extremely poisonous creature sports a brilliant blue, gas-filled float. It is very pretty, but also very dangerous.

Weather: Bermuda is warmed by the Gulf Stream with average summer temperatures between 75 and 85 degrees Fahrenheit. Rainstorms are infrequent in the summer and showers that do come are brief.

Hurricanes are not as prevalent here as in the Caribbean, but they do occasionally visit the island once every seven years or so. Although hurricane season officially runs from June 1 to November 30, it is very rare to have any activity in June.

Getting Around the Island: Moped and scooter rentals can be arranged at various points on the island or at the hotel (the driving of automobiles is restricted to Bermuda citizens only). A note of caution: the roads are narrow and cars drive on the left side of the road. It is not advised to drive mopeds at night or in rainy weather.
