UCSF Practical On-Call Radiology

COURSE OVERVIEW

This course is specifically designed for practicing radiologists with general on-call responsibilities, as well as radiologists who want to improve their skillset of imaging in patients with acute issues. The focus will be on both traumatic and non-traumatic etiologies, including the imaging of thoracic, neuro, musculoskeletal and abdominal conditions, the latter which will encompass the GI, GU and ObGyn organ systems.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course, the attendee should be able to:

1. Confidently analyze traumatic and non-traumatic acute imaging of multiple organ systems;
2. Identify and characterize urgent thoracic presentations, including acute aortic syndromes, pulmonary emboli, acute lung diseases, and incidentalomas;
3. Recognize and interpret urgent neuro presentations, including spinal and inflammation, intracranial infection, headache, and facial symptoms;
4. Evaluate urgent musculoskeletal presentations of the major joints and MSK infection;
5. Identify and recommend treatment for various urgent conditions of the gastrointestinal, genitourinary and obstetric-gynecologic systems; utilizing Ultrasound and CT/MRI.

ACCREDITATION

In support of improving patient care, the University of California, San Francisco is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Physicians

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 15.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the live activity.

Nurses

For the purpose of recertification, the American Nurses Credentialing Center accepts AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ issued by organizations accredited by the ACCME.

Physician Assistants

AAPA accepts category 1 credit from AOACCME, Prescribed credit from AAFP, and AMA category 1 credit™ for the PRA for organizations accredited by the ACCME.
